

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

ZACHARY GOLDMAN* AND SAMUEL RASCOFF

The Center on Law and Security was very pleased to partner with the NYU Journal of International Law and Politics for this special edition. We are especially grateful to Alyson Zureick and Amir Badat, two successive Editors-in-Chief with whom it was a great pleasure to work. We would also like to express our gratitude to our Director of Operations, Sarvenaz Bakhtiar, for her myriad and indispensable contributions to the life and work of the Center. The Center's Board of Advisors, led by our Chairman, Rick Reiss, has been a consistent source of guidance. We are also grateful to the NYU Abu Dhabi Institute for providing support for the workshop at which these essays were first presented. Associate Director Sharon Bergman and Amber Deister in particular assisted with the development and execution of the workshop from the beginning. And finally, we wish to acknowledge and thank the workshop participants themselves, who helped advance the state of the scholarship on deterrence issues in such a significant way.

* Executive Director, Center on Law and Security

 Associate Professor of Law and Faculty Director, Center on Law and Security

